

DEAN'S DIVERSITY LEADERSHIP COUNCIL

Established in 2015, the Dean's Diversity Leadership Council (DDLCL) is a student organization dedicated to promoting diversity and fostering a welcoming and inclusive environment for all members of the KU Law community. The DDLCL serves as an advisory council to the Dean and to the KU Law Faculty and Staff Diversity, Equity & Inclusion Committee, which assists all members of the KU Law community in diversity and inclusion matters. Among other accomplishments, the DDLCL has created and distributed a KU Law Climate Survey, supported programs aimed at undergraduate pre-law students, engaged in community outreach and hosted several campus events focusing on diversity in the legal profession. Moving forward, the DDLCL will build on these actions and take an active role in helping to ensure that the KU Law environment is one in which everyone is comfortable talking about their ideas and concerns in a manner that is respectful and productive. The DDLCL will also continue its efforts to increase diversity through outreach and education within Green Hall and in the greater legal community.

DIVERSITY AT KU LAW

KU Law values diversity in its student body and believes that the intentional creation of a learning environment that fosters inclusion and promotes diversity is essential to achieving the university's educational mission. The university fosters a multicultural environment in which the dignity and rights of the individual are respected. The law school's Faculty and Staff Diversity, Equity & Inclusion Committee, its alumni Diversity Advisory Council, its Dean's Diversity Leadership Council and its diverse student organizations help support diversity through workshops, presentations, awareness exercises and social events.

FACULTY AND STAFF DIVERSITY, EQUITY & INCLUSION COMMITTEE

Mission Statement:

Led by Assistant Dean of Academic and Student Affairs Leah Terranova and Clinical Professor of Law Jean Phillips, the Faculty and Staff Diversity, Equity & Inclusion Committee promotes tolerance and professionalism in law school and the practice of law.
